Finns Report Russian Troops Suffer New Reverses

Far Below Zero Weather Fails To Halt Finns

Report Rear Communications Of Two Russian Divisions Are Cut Off

SWEDISH VOLUNTEERS ARE NOW IN FINLAND

Intense Cold Adds To Suffering In Bomb Attacked Finnish Towns

By PETER DE HEMMER GUDME
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HELSINKI, Jan. 17.—While intense cold that plunged to more than 50 degrees below zero added to the suffering in bomb-wrecked Finnish towns, reports from the eastern battle zone indicated today that Finnish troops have cut the rear communications of two crack Red army divisions on the Salla front.

A statement in the official communique—"near the eastern frontier at Salla our troops dispersed two enemy companies"—and late advices to the capital combined to show that the two Soviet divisions there finally have been cut off from their supply bases after days of guerilla warfare.

The Russian divisions, described as troops from the Okraine and the best Soviet soldiers yet seen in Finland, have been moving from Salla in the direction of Kemijaervi.

Russians Retreating

Advices this afternoon indicated that the Russian divisions are retreating and making special attempts to prevent the Finns from capturing their artillery pieces.

At the same time, the Russians were reported taking extreme measures to increase the efficiency of the Leningrad-Murmansk railway, which has been cut frequently by Finnish raiders.

A number of Soviet functionaries were said to have been arrested on

PA NEWC OBSERVES

May Pa Newc offer a suggestion on how to spend a long, cold winter evening? Why not look through your old high school yearbook? Old yearbooks recall to memory many pleasant times and you'll probably remember your parents saying, "These are the best days of your life, if you only knew it."

Christmas has come and gone and we are well on our way into the new year. But, have you managed to figure out what all those gifts are yet? Or, did you just exchange them for something you could identify?

Although it has snowed hard several times this winter, roads have remained comparatively clear. This was probably due in most part to the strong winds that have prevailed. This has been one of the windiest years, to Pa Newc's way of thinking, for some time.

Owen Fox, city forester, reports that one of the groundhogs in the animal house at Gaston Park, came up from his place of hibernation into the cage for about twenty minutes, on Tuesday, partook of some "eats," the went back to its "snooze." Last week, during the very cold weather, all four came out for about the same length of time, took a good feed before retiring to bed.

SENATORS WARY OF NUETRALITY EFFECT

Two Senate Committees Are Giving Consideration To Move By President

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Certain delay and probable rejection today faced President Roosevelt's proposal for enlarging export-import bank capital to provide a loan for Finland.

Privately, some of his most vigorous supporters admitted the move was "a dead duck." Even senate Democratic leader Barkley refused to predict that Finnish air legislation would pass.

Two senate committees considered the proposal, embodied in identical letters the president sent Speaker Bankhead and Vice President Garner. Before the banking committee was also the bill of Senator Brown (D) Michigan, calling for a $60,000,000 RFC loan to Finland. The foreign relations committee met with only the presidential letter before it, but with the senate pledged to submit any legislation approved by the banking committee to foreign relations committee study before final action.

Trouble Ahead

There was plenty of trouble ahead for the Brown measure in the banking committee and Barkley predicted that if any legislation were reported it would be a re-drafted bill.

"We don't need any orders from abroad regarding our relations with Finland. We will judge for ourselves how best to serve the Finnish cause, and so will other northern states."

The premier, however, added: "There is no question of any breaches of our neutrality, such as permission for transporting belligerents' troops through Sweden or the use of bases on our territory."

ROME, Jan. 17.—Italy may be forced to go to war "at any moment," Ettore Muti, new secretary-general of the Fascist party, warned today at a conference of Fascist chiefs of central Italy.

"We must not be lulled to sleep under the illusion that the present situation (including Italian neutrality) will be perpetuated," he said.

"Italy at any moment may face the necessity of taking up arms."

Muti, 37-year-old war veteran, spoke with the authority not only of his own high position, but that gained by his close connections with Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister.

Ciano, it was said, was largely responsible for the appointment of Muti to succeed Achille Starace as head of the party.

Suggests Two Billion Dollar Stabilization Fund Be Put To Use

By ROBERT A. McGILL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Use of the treasury's $2,000,000,000 currency stabliziation fund to reduce the public debt was proposed today by Senator Adams (D) Colorado.

Declaring that the fund "isn't and never was needed to protect the American dollar," Adams suggested that the money, or a part of it at least, be applied to reduce the current public debt of more than $40,000,000,000. He pointed out that if this money were so applied, there would be no trouble about securing sufficient funds to run the government during the next twelve months without exceeding the statutory limit of 45,000,0000,000 on the debt.

The fund was set up when this government devalued the gold dollar. There was a spirited congressional fight over extension of the fund for two more years when it expired last year. Treasury officials urged continuation of the fund as a "big stick" to use in international exchange in case of foreign "raids" on the dollar. There were also efforts to reduce the fund to

Election Of Tuesday Is Threat To Long Dynasty

By WILLIAM G. GAUDET
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 17.—Marking the most serious threat to the state administration since the ascension to power of the late Sen. Huey P. Long, a second Democratic state primary loomed as a strong possibility today.

Although most Louisiana was still counting ballots today, indications from incomplete and unofficial returns pointed to the running of a second primary election to nominate a governor.

Gov. Earl K. Long—on whom the mantle of responsibility fell during a period when the state was being rocked by revelations of graft and corruption—led four opposition candidates but his lead was not sufficient to bring nomination.

Must Receive Plurality

Under state Democratic laws the winning candidate must receive a plurality in excess of the combined vote of opposition candidates.

Riding high on a "reform" program to "clean up" Louisiana, Sam Jones, Lake Charles attorney, and State Sen. James A. Noe piled up enough votes to stamp them as threats to the political dynasty that the "Kingfish" founded 12 years ago.

Although Gov. Long still enjoyed a big plurality, observers predicted a second primary on the theory that

Large British Tanker Is Sunk, Claim On Radio

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—The German radio reported from Amsterdam today that a large British tanker caught fire Tuesday off the southwest coast of England, "burst asunder" and sank.

The unnamed vessel was estimated at between 8,000 and 10,000 tons, the announcer said.

"First reports," the broadcast said, "indicated the tanker struck a mine whereupon it burst into flames, broke apart and sank without a single member of the crew being rescued.

"In the latest reports, however, the suspicion was expressed that the tanker was torpedoed by a German submarine."

(A London dispatch last night stated that an unidentified 10,000-ton tanker caught fire, broke in half and sank following an explosion off the southwest coast of England apparently after being attacked by a submarine. This version stated the crew was rescued.)

Over 200,000 Attend State Farm Show In Two Days

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17—Pennsylvania's 24th annual farm show reached the half-way point today with more than 205,000 persons estimated to have viewed the 10,000 exhibits during the first two days of the five-day exposition.

Last night, Gov. Arthur H. James, just returned from Florida and the bedside of his daughter, Dorothy, ill with influenza in Miami, addressed a more-than-capacity crowd of 9000 persons in the huge farm show arena.

The governor prefaced his speech by remarking he was happy to return from "the warm lands of sunny Florida to the warm hearts of Pennsylvania."

Governor James, the state's "favorite son" Republican presidential possibility, gave no hint of plans to seek the G. O. P. nomination. Although observers predict the chief executive may throw his hat in the presidential ring tonight when he addresses Pennsylvanians over a statewide radio network.

Believe Economy Tide Is Running High

Congress Will Push Program

Seek To Take Advantage Of Mood For Economy Says Leader

DEEP CUTS MADE IN OFFICE BILL

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Confident that the economy tide is running high, leaders of the house appropriations committee today decided to rush consideration of the big supply bills to forestall organization of spending blocs" and "pressure groups" to increase appropriations.

The decision was contingent upon the house upholding the deep cuts made in the $1,000,000,000 independent offices supply bill by the appropriations committee. The measure, now before the house, was slated for final passage tomorrow.

Wanted Economy

Rep. Woodrum (D) Virginia, leader of the economy bloc said:

"They said they wanted economy and we gave it to them on the independent offices bill when the committee cut under the budget $94,000,000. I am very much encouraged by the sentiment in the committee and the house. I think we can do something this year to save money.

"We want to push the supply bills through as fast as we can while we are in a mood for economy. We want to get action before these pressure groups can get organized."

President Roosevelt said he would ask legislation to restore reductions, totalling $2,055,000 made in the bill by cutting off funds for the national resources planning board and the office of government reports. He said the proposed legislation would legalize appropriations for the two agencies to which the committee said it lacked legislative authority to grant.

Rep. Dirksen (R) Illinois, attacked both the national resources board, headed by the president's uncle, Frederic A. Delano, and the office of government reports, saying:

"The resources board does things that are all right if you can afford them. The office of government reports, which is the old national emergency council, is nothing but a political and propaganda arm of the president. It is just the kind of an activity congress should cut out in a search for economy.

Many of the recent developments, which it was practical to exhibit were shown to the audience, including polaroid glass; rayon products: lucite, a plastic material resembling glass, which is a conductor of light, and can be used to distribute light just as a hose would distribute water, or a copper wire, electricity; many different types of plastics: a new type of electric reflector which reflects the red rays from an electric light, generating and directing heat and which is now being used in baking enamel on automobiles; and pure white, cold light, generated from gases.

Dr. Wendt said in conclusion that because of the inevitability of change, that people should adjust themselves to the constant change going on around us.

He felt that more science should be taught to the children in the schools so that they would be better able to understand the new developments as they come along, rather than being forced to specialize in such subjects in order to gain knowledge of them. He also stated that he believed science would produce more leisure for people of the future.

U. S. Inspection For All Mines Is Demand Of Lewis

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Charging delay by congress had resulted in the loss of "many" lives, John L. Lewis, president of both the United Mine Workers Union and the C.I.O., today demanded that congress "immediatlely" enact a law placing all coal mines in the nation under federal inspection.

Citing the explosion in a mine at Bartley, W. Va., seven days ago when 91 miners perished, Lewis addressed a letter to all senators urging passage of the mine safety bill now pending before the senate. He recalled that he had sent a similar plea to congress on July 18, 1939, after, he said, 28 miners "died like rats in a hole" in a Kentucky mine disaster.

McKean County Temperature Is Fourteen Below

(International News Service)

KANE, Pa., Jan. 17.—Feel cold this morning Well, then, think how the hardy residents of McKean county must have shivered bright and early today. The McKinley station of the Manufacturers Gas company, south of here, reported 14 below zero.

The U. S. weather bureau station in Kane said it was a bit warmer in town—it was only six below. The 14-degree reading was the coldest reported so far this season.

Temperatures started rising slowly after daybreak, with the sky overcast and snow flurries. Winter sports were booming, with tobogan slides, ice rinks and ski trails in full operation at Crystal Park Springs and other bases.

Moscow Makes Radio Attack Upon Denmark

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 17.—A bitter attack against Denmark for alleged aid to Finland was broadcast by the Moscow radio today, according to the London Daily Mail.

The announcer was quoted as stating:

"The Danish government has completely lost control. The people are in daily revolt against the aid sent to Finland, but are being suppressed with great cruelty and violence."

According to the Mail the announcement contained a veiled threat of Russian interference to rescue the "oppressed" Danish people.

charges of sabotaging the line, which is a vital supply route for the Russian troops in the far north.

Military reports to Helsinki said that Finnish commanders expected important events shortly on the Salla front despite the intensely cold weather which has been hampering operations for the past few days.

The defeat of the two Russian companies announced yesterday was believed to mark a preliminary stage of a renewed Finnish attempt to surround and annihilate two Russian divisions which have been defending themselves vigorously against raids launched by Finnish ski fighters.

Swedish Volunteers In Finland

(A dispatch from Stockhoid said that a corps of Swedish volunteers is now somewhere in Finland, ready for action, under command of Col. Magnus Dyrssen, who left a Swedish regiment to enter the Finnish service.

(Dyrssen was quoted as saying that the Swedish fighters were picked men who had received military training, and that some of them had served in the Spanish civil war and French Foreign Legion.

(The volunteer corps possesses first-class equipment, the report added, as well as excellent medical resources and no serious cases of illness have broken out despite the extreme cold. Two Swedish clergymen are attached to the corps.)

While major ground operations were restricted owing to the weather, between 70 and 80 Soviet planes carried out bombardments of interior Finland yesterday. Hundreds of civilians whose homes were wrecked by the raids were left without adequate shelter in the bitter weather.

The Finnish air force replied by bombarding Russian troop detachments. Finnish pursuit planes and anti-aircraft batteries brought down four more Soviet bombers.

At Hangoe 11 fires raged as a result of repeated raids by planes which dropped incendiary bombs, while at Ekenaes 400 of the town's 700 houses were in ruins as a result of daily bombings which have made Egenaes famous as "Finland's Guernica".

Abo, also in southern Finland, was heavily raided and 30 persons there were reported to have been killed.

As a result of the red air raids, Finnish authorities decided to enforce compulsory evacuation of centers in southern Finland, including Hangoe, Abo, Ekenaes, Karis and Riihimaeki.

GOV. JAMES' SPEECH TONIGHT MAY BE START OF CAMPAIGN

Although the governor termed his speech "a report on my first year's stewardship," Democrats expected it to be the opening gun of this year's political campaign by the titular head of the Republican party in Pennsylvania.

The governor's speech came in the midst of political jockeying by supporters of Jay Cooke, Philadelphia city chairman, former Sen. David A. Reed of Pittsburgh, and retired Chief Justice John W. Kephart, all of whom are attempting to line up support for their candidacies for United States senator in the Republican primary.

Kephart has already announced, while Cooke's formal entry into the race is expected soon. Definite word was lacking on whether Reed would make it a three-way fight for organization support.

It was thought unlikely, however, that Governor James would officially commit himself to any one candidate.

Democrats, themselves uncertain over their senatorial lineup, took cognizance of the governor's speech and termed it "the first-quarter 'kick-off' of the 1940 political campaign."

AN INADEQUATE GESTURE BY JAPAN

THE fact that Japan's new Premier, Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, Navy chieftain, is known as a moderate and as not unfriendly to the democracies, suggests that his selection may be in the nature of a gesture of appeasement toward the United States.

This is hardly surprising, since Japan's 1911 trade treaty with this country expires next week at the instigation of the Washington Government.

But it may require more than the naming of a not unfriendly Premier to convince the United States that we should go on arming Japan for its barbarously brutal war on China, and to assure us that Tokio intends to respect American rights in the Orient.

If Admiral Yonai's Ministry makes sincere efforts to meet the American viewpoint there may be hope for better relations between Washington and Tokio. Japan's whole policy of ruthless aggression and disregard for the rights of others is so fundamentally wrong that guaranties more substantial than a mere Cabinet shift are plainly called for.

GETTING THE WAR NEWS

People interested in the power of the press and such things should watch the future career of Sir John Reith, chief of the British Ministry of Information. Reith has been the highly successful head of the British government-owned radio.

Recently, when Chamberlain, following complaints of the newspapers about censorship, dismissed the old minister of information and put in a new one, he selected Sir John Reith. The army of newspaper men gathered at his office to acclaim the change and meet him. He made them wait a while and then sent this word: "Sir John Reith can not see journalists."

The London newspapers can now be expected to set out to annihilate Reith.

Over in Paris the newspaper men are having poor picking too, and are trying to raise a row about it. The French war department is given to announcing war news like this: "Today's Communique: Quiet at Front." This is a headache of course, to the newspaper men.

The free focal point of war information appears to be Helsinki. Currently the best newspaper writing concerning the wars is coming out of that capital.

FRANKLIN'S BIRTHDAY

The two hundred and thirty-fourth anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin today, January 17, passes all but unnoticed. Perhaps the reason why Franklin's birthday is not nationally celebrated is that Franklin did not survive into the period of our national history—he died exactly one year after Washington's first inauguration.

Nevertheless, his personality is probably more familiar to the average American than that of any public man in the nation's past save Lincoln. Franklin, who, like Lincoln, was a self-made man of high achievement, of originality, abounding humor, unfailing tact, never stirred the emotions or reached the heights of imagination as Lincln's war-time speeches did. Yet he added to his other achievements that of self- educated scientist and inventor—an American trait.

But Lincoln, with all his homely wisdom, could hardly have compiled "Poor Richard," nor can one picture him as a commoner from a distant colony, bending to his country's advantage the court at Versailles and the best minds of London.

Franklin was not, like Madison, Jefferson, Hamilton, and in some respects Lincoln, a public man whose conception of public questions left its impress on history. His part in issuance of the Declaration and in drawing up the Constitution was important, but chiefly because of his skill in smoothing over differences of judgment. His own program, at the outset, was for a single legislative chamber for a seven-year presidential term, without salary and without the incumbent's privilege of re-election.

But it is Franklin's native humor his homely philosophy of life, his common sense, which ensure his place in American tradition. That "Poor Richard's" aphorisms were largely derived from proverbial wisdom of the ages is quite true; the author himself admits it. Yet they were admirably assembled, were precisely adapted to correcting popular illusions (in our day as in his) and some of them—"It is hard for an empty sack to stand upright" is one example; "If you want to know the value of money, go and try to borrow some," is another—were undoubtedly original.

Franklin's own humorous observations, sometimes hit off in conversation are a characteristic part of the tradition One matter of wonder to any one who reads appreciatively either Franklin's writings or Boswell's "Johnson," is why, among the notable Englishmen of the day whom Franklin knew intimately in his long pre-Revolutionary stay at London, there is nowhere any record that two such famous conversationalists as Benjamin Franklin and Samuel Johnson ever met.

"THIRTIES"—THE LOST DECADE

A writer in the January issue of Current History—Shelby Collom Davis—says that in glancing back over the "Thirties," from 1930 to 1940, it is plain that these years represent a lost decade.

Most of us who have weathered the storms and the changes which have taken place during the past ten years, may feel that we have gained something from the experience. Undoubtedly we have.

But analyzing the country as a whole, it is evident that we failed badly in this decade in comparison with those which preceded it.

As Mr. Davis says: "Such retrogression has never before occurred in American history! Usually we look back with satisfaction at the completion of a decade.

"We worked hard and got our just due, and the record showed it. Let us look at that record:

"Industrial production during the 'Twenties' increased one-third over that of the 'Teens,' although the latter period was abnormal with wartime excesses. And the 'Teens' averaged two-thirds over the first decade of this century. During the first decade production more than doubled over the previous decade and in the 'nineties increased nearly two-thirds over the 'Eighties,' and so on all the way back to when we first became important as an industrial nation."

And then Mr. Davis observes:

"No wonder our leadership is puzzled and bewildered at what has recently happened to us. It is a tremendous and significant fact."

But he thinks we are facing a more pleasant era in 1940.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

FRANKLIN MODEL FOR OUR CHILDREN

Benjamin Franklin was born 234 years ago today.

Let those children with good minds who have trouble with arithmetic find comfort in the experience of Franklin. Although he says in one part of his autobiography, "I do not remember when I could not read," he later says, "I failed in arithmetic." This was at about the age of nine. Of this subject when he was 16 he notes:

"And now it was that, being on some occasions made ashamed of my ignorance in figures, which I had twice failed in learning when in school, I took Cocker's book of arithmetic and went through the whole by myself with great ease."

Franklin at an early age strove for self-improvement. "While I was intent on improving my language, I met with an English grammar . . . and logic, the latter finishing with a dispute in the Socratic method. . . . I was charmed with it, adopted it, dropped my abrupt contradiction and positive argumentation, and put on the humbler enquirer and doubter . . ."

Avoided Positiveness

He says he learned from this to avoid such words as "certainly, undoubtedly, or any other that gave the air of positiveness to an opinion; but rather I say, I conceive or apprehend a thing to be so and so; it appears to me, as I should think it is so or so; or, it is so if I am not mistaken. This habit, I believe, has been of great advantage to me." He also suggests it as a good way to make our conversation more agreeable and attractive.

In his later adolescence Franklin drew up 13 rules of conduct.

"It was about this time I conceived the bold and arduous project of arriving at moral perfection. I wished to live without committing any fault at any time; I would conquer either all that natural inclination, custom or company might lead me into. As I knew, or thought I knew, what was right and wrong, I did not see why I might not always do the one and avoid the other. But I soon found that I had undertaken a task of more difficulty than I had imagined. While my care was employed in guarding against one fault, I was often surprised by another; habit took the advantage of inattention; inclination was sometimes too strong for reason. I concluded, at length, that the mere speculative conviction that it was to our interest to be completely virtuous, was not sufficient to prevent our slipping; and that, on the contrary, habits must be broken, and good ones acquired and established, before we can have any dependence on a steady, uniform rectitude of conduct."

Then he listed and defined 13 virtues: temperance, silence, order, resolution, frugality, industry, sincerity, justice, moderation, cleanliness, tranquillity, chastity, humility.

Under "silence" he says, for instance, "Speak not but what may benefit others or yourself; avoid trifling conversation . . . and therefore wishing to break up the habit I was getting into of prattling, punning and joking, which only made me acceptable to trifling company, I gave Silence the second place . . ."

"I judged it would be well not to distract my attention by attempting the whole at once, but to fix on one of them at a time; and, when I should be master of that, then to proceed to another, and so on until I should have gone through the 13."

Here is a tip for parents to attack only one specific problem at a time in themselves or their children. We so often err just because we attempt too much at once.

"How will you do it?" was the curious question.

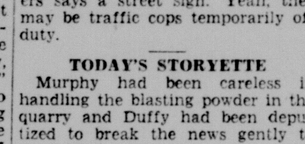

"Simply peel off the wallpaper," quipped the landlord.

A most interesting trip this time of the year is by rail from New Castle to Harrisburg. Snow will be found five or six inches deep some places and in other places there will be no snow at all. Winter in the hills of Pennsylvania is wonderful.

"What did you see in South America?" a woman asked her husband soon after he had returned from the long voyage.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

While statistics show a growing increase of people over 60, my observation indicates growing neglect of and disrespect for old people on the part of the generation now in their teens. This is a sad development in contrast with the generation of our parents who honored their grandfathers and grandmothers even more than they did their mothers and fathers.

The disrespectful attitude of the young moderns toward the oldsters is largely at the bottom of the many movements for old age pensions. Young people who are really well-bred and who act in good taste are attentive to their elders and humor their little peccadillos.

Readers' Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: Recently I was a guest at a formal dinner. I, of course knew the hostess and a few of the guests. The hostess introduced to me the man who took me in to dinner as well as two other guests standing nearby when I arrived; but the majority of the guests I did not meet. Wasn't this somewhat odd?—Betsy.

Answer: General introductions at a formal dinner are not customary. The arriving guest is presented to the guest-of-honor and to anyone else standing near the receiving line. The hostess sees to it that each man is presented to the woman he is to take in to dinner. If this is overlooked, he should ask either the hostess or the host to present him. Introductions are never made at the table. Even if guests have not been introduced, they should talk to those seated nearby both at the table and after dinner in the drawing room.

Yesterday when I was down town a truck of vegetables and fruit attempted to make a quick turn and in doing so a box of apples turned a somersault and landed bottom side up on the pavement with a thud. A doctor lots of times can find nothing the matter with a man, which makes his opinion differ considerably from that of the man's wife.

Hoover Wants More Prisons, G-Men Needs More Support To Further Job
New Type Of Criminal Has Appeared

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17

DIRECTOR J. EDGAR HOOVER of the Federal Bureau of Investigation wants more money from congress to keep up with his organization's detective work. His annual report to the lawmakers points out that his bureau simply hasn't enough sleuths to go around. Plenty of suspicious situations, he says, go unprobed due to the lack of experts to do the necessary undercover work. What's more, J. Edgar remarks, the country hasn't enough cell-room to accommodate all the federal culprits whom the FBI does catch and convict. Unless we build more prisons, it appears that, by June 30 next year, we'll have hard onto 3,000 miscreants, under sentence and entitled to comfortable quarters, but homeless in a cold world — that is, as cold as our northern hemisphere gets in June. It's an injustice to these birds, J. Edgar's report indicates, to keep 'em cell-less and unfed, after they've been properly found guilty and qualified for cosy quarters and good food in one or another of Uncle Sam's hoosegows.

What stumps our congressmen is this:

Why do we have so many more federal convicts than we used to have?

In prohibition days captured bootleggers accounted for a big increase, but even that wasn't as tremendous as the present one—maybe because bootleggers generally weren't convicted.

Now, though—what about it?

Spies! Propagandists!

The suspicious gentry now are international propagandists and spies —"espionage agents," as the latter are called.

The FBI is on their trail.

Saboteurs are worse than propagandists and spies.

A propagandist just scatters publicity. Who cares for that? It's easy to counteract. A spy digs up military secrets of the country he's spying on. My personal opinion is that he's considerably exaggerated, as a menace.

A lot of the dope many spies peddle is available to anybody who'll take the trouble to hunt for it. Still the spy's intentions are bad. Maybe it's just as well to detect and incarcerate him for awhile.

Menace Of Sabotage

But saboteurs are outright dangerous. Their stunt is to throw physical grit into the industrial machinery of the nation they're assigned to operate in.

The Pressure For Money

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.

THERE are pessimistic observers in Washington who think that before the session is over the whole flimsy pretense of economy will have disappeared and a striking demonstration be given of the fact, often enough charged, that the Federal finances have gotton out of control. Apprehensions along these lines exist both within and without the Administration.

THEY are particularly acute among the more conservatively inclined Treasury officials, of whom there still remain a few, and the reasons upon which their fears are based are clear enough. First, there is the power and rapacity of the farm lobby; second, there is the admitted tendency in both parties to cater to agricultural interests, especially in an election year; third, there is the conviction that, while the President unquestionably will protest the wreckage of his budget, he will not make the kind of fight necessary to halt excessive appropriations or compel carrying taxes, although he could win that kind of fight if he should make it.

ON the contrary, the journalistic reflectors of the White House appear unanimous in the belief that Mr. Roosevelt is already reconciled—in fact, was before he submitted his budget—to Congressional disregard of his estimates and intends to load on Congress full blame for the increased, rather than diminished, deficit which is foreseen, and full responsibility for repeal of the $45,000,000,000 debt limit, which is inevitable. Those close to the President are already rejoicing in what they regard as the cleverness of his strategy and gleefully predict that Congress is scheduled for some agonizing moments when realization of the fix Mr. Roosevelt has put it in finally comes.

PERHAPS they are right. Certainly it is true that the farm lobby, irresistible in the past, is today making demands greater than ever before, demands which, if even partially granted, will make the deficit next year well over $3,000,000,000 and smash that legal-debt limit to pieces. Just a few days ago the American Farm Bureau notified the President that it would ask Congress for $807,000,000 for parity payments at this session. Spokesmen said that they would favor a special tax for this appropriation, but that idea is not taken seriously. Its phoniness can be grasped when it is realized that last year, over the President's protest, the farm lobby forced through $225,000,000 for parity payments. At the time Congress promised to impose a carrying tax, but Congress did not redeem the promise.

IF that could happen last year with no election in the offing, it is absurd to expect Congress, voluntarily, either to resist pressure from the lobby for more money or to impose a heavy tax to offset the Treasury drain in a year when one-third of the Senate and the whole of the House are up for re-election. What has happened in the way of farm appropriations and what may be expected is best indicated by figures which show that Federal aid to agriculture has risen from $156,000,000 in 1930 to $1,317,000,000 for 1940, or almost 750 per cent. Every year the power of the farm lobby grows. Every year the resistance of Congress is lessened. This year, with the Republicans determined to show themselves the "farmer's friend," and the Roosevelt Administration with it subsidy record and its parity promises, the chances are heavy that the farm lobby will get most of what it asks.

IF IT does that then every calculation of controlling Federal finances goes "out the window," and instead of the Government being at last turned in the direction of solvency it will once more be pointed in the direction of national bankruptcy and crude inflation. There is but one way in which the farm lobby can be kept from running away with us this session. Should Mr. Roosevelt, instead of a perfunctory

WHAT DID THEY SAY?

Public speakers often have trouble with the gentlemen of the Press. They write their speeches before they are delivered, furnishing the reporters with copies. They deliver their speech and it is not at all the same as published next day. No one knows why, except the speaker himself.

Professor William Lyon Phelps, now Professor Emeritus (which means he doesn't work any more) of Yale University is also well known as a very clever speaker and lecturer. Commenting on his own speeches, he once accused his audiences of giving him credit for only one-fourth of the speeches he makes. Explaining, Phelps said:

"Every time I accept an invitation to speak, I really make four addresses. First, is the speech I prepare in advance; that is pretty good. Second is the speech I really make. Third, is the speech I make on the way home, which is the best of all; and fourth, is the speech the newspapers next morning say I made, which bear no relation to any of the others."

Speaking of Phelps, he is known to his friends as "Billy." There are a great many things I might say of this man for I have known him, intimately, for a great many years. As a young man he played baseball.

I first met him when I was a preparatory "kid" spending a summer with my father and mother at Chautauqua. Alonzo Stagg, now known as a great football coach, was also one of the summer visitors. Both men were at that time under-graduates of Yale. Both men played baseball very well; in fact were playing on the Yale College baseball team, and so they interested themselves that summer in assembling a team to represent the Chautauqua Assembly grounds in games played about the lake. I was fortunate enough to be able to play on that team. I remember very well playing a close game with the Mayville Nine, when "Billy" won the game. He hit the ball so far into the weeds in the out-field that the fielders could not find it.

"Billy" also played tennis and later took up Golf. Years afterwards I ran into him at a reunion of the Class in New Haven and found that he was just as good a golf player as he was a baseball player.

"Billy" is hale and hearty today, and so it seems that many men who have distinguished themselves in one way or another in these United States, have found time to play good American games and be better for it. They have lived longer and they have often done more than those who never learned how to play.

U. S. Senator Davis Discusses $500,000,000 National Defense Program In Address

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—President Roosevelt's $500,000,000 national defense program today was under fire of Pennsylvania's senior U. S. Senator James J. Davis, Republican.

Senator Davis, addressing the 27th annual banquet of the Pennsylvania Threshermen and Farmers Protective Association, told more than 800 persons last night that despite present tax levies congress has been directed "to set up new taxes for a $500,000,000 defense program."

Davis declared that "the national debt is growing, the unemployment problem is still unsolved, and promised good times are delayed."

He added that no state has had a "more difficult time" of weathering the past seven years than Pennsylvania. "Trade agreements," he said "have not helped this state."

State Secretary of Commerce Richard P. Brown claimed there were 3688 fewer state jobs since Governor James took office, while 13,794 hourly workers were employed by the highway department as compared with 55,000 a year ago.

Secretary of internal affairs William S. Livengood, Jr., warned the guests that the proposed investigation at Washington of insurance companies "was an attempt to destroy the great institution which provides social security on a self-imposed basis."

Governor Arthur H. James made a brief address.

Anniversary Is Observed Again

Rev. Maitland Observes 36th Spiritual Birthday With Church And Home Program

At the home of Rev. S. R. Maitland, R. F. D. No. 3, last night the program observing his 36th spiritual anniversary was concluded. Observance was inaugurated at the services at the Nazarene church, Falls and Beaver streets, on Sunday, and continued to last night at the minister's home.

Because of the condition of Rev. Maitland's health the ceremonies on this annual occasion during the past few years have not been as extensive as preceding years, but annually the anniversary of Mr. Maitland's spiritual birthday is fittingly observed.

Motion for a new trial was filed Tuesday by counsel for the Cartwright Hardware Company in the case filed by John Dacko. Two trials have already been held in the case the first one being a victory for the defendant and the second a $225 verdict for the plaintiff.

Motion for a judgment non obstante were dicto and also a motion for a new trial were filed by Drs. E. U. Snyder and H. C. Harper in the case filed against them by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goddard. The case recently tried resulted in a verdict for the plaintiffs

A directed verdict was taken Tuesday in the case of Edward and Bertha Gunther, parents of Albert Gunther, a minor, for $475 against A. M. Lore. The case was not contested.

Notice was handed down by the court Tuesday that no sessions of civil court would be held on the week of February 19, there appearing to be no cases for that week.

In court room number one Tuesday a cross suit between Ralph L. Phillips and Robert McQuiston was taken up. Each sued the other for damages arising out of an accident on route 18, four miles north of New Castle on December 3, 1939. Each alleges the other was guilty of negligence.

Up over the 2,000 mark the dog licenses goes. Two thousand pooches are inside the law, with about 7,000 still outside. Seven out of every nine dogs in the county are without licenses.

In the office of the prothonotary and clerk of courts, the following actions have been filed:

Clara L. Nagel of Ellwood City asks that viewers be appointed to view her property on Joffre street and assess damages. She alleges the property was built at what was thought to be grade. Subsequently the boro graded the street and left the house about nine feet above grade.

Elizabeth Jennings of New Castle files a libel in divorce against her husband Wendell Jennings claiming cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities to person. They were married June 2, 1938.

Helen Margaret Gerhard, of Ellwood Citl files for a divorce from her husband Lloyd Gerhard claiming cruel and barbarous treatment, indignities to person, and drunkeness. They were married September 1, 1920.

Jordan Mancheff, of Ellwood City files an action against Leland Denniston of New Castle for $435 said to have been paid out for medical attention and funeral expenses of his 4½ year old girl who died as the result of being hit by Denniston's truck January 13, 1939.

Along about this time of year lawyers get hungry. The Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Years dinners are past memories and they get a yen for some roast turkey. In the law library on Tuesday a determined push for the annual bar banquet was started with the bench concurring in the petition of the bar.

Nobody knew who was on the banquet committee of the bar association but the list was finally located under another sheet of committee appointments on the bulletin board. The committee was found to consist of Attorneys Robert M. White, Hugh D. Graham, Joseph R. McFate and Allan D. Keller, all well fed gentlemen who perhaps had forgotten their responsibilities.

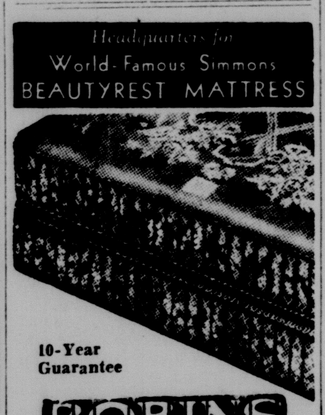

Unless the committee gets busy on the matter, there is a strong suspicion that some member of the bar may file charges of dereliction, or perhaps mopery against the committee individually and collectively.

What the barristers want is food and lots of it.

U. S. Harbors To Be Protected By New Steel Nets

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Jan. 17.—Submarine attacks, such as the one which sank the British battleship Royal Oak recently in Scapa Flow, would be impossible in United States harbors, it was learned today.

In utmost secrecy, the navy has perfected a new type of submarine net which would entirely prevent submarines from attacking vessels anchored behind breakwaters. It was given a try-out last week and proved successful, according to meager admissions by naval spokesmen.

It was learned that precautions are being taken to protect all harbors in the United States. Within a short space of time, it was learned, the net, built along the lines of those used for commercial fishing, but made of steel, can be set in place between old and new breakwaters, closing channel gaps completely.

NURSES OF HOSPITAL ENTERTAINED TUESDAY

A lovely affair took place in the Nurses Home of the Jameson Memorial hospital Tuesday afternoon—a tea given by the pre-clinical student nurses of the hospital for the nurses of the staff and their friends.

The hours kept were from 2 o'clock to 3:30. Tea was served from a table decorated in silver and blue and beautiful flowers. Music and readings were included on the program.

The pre-clinical class gave the tea as a part of their work in nutrition and cookery, supervised by the hospital dietition. It proved not only helpful for the hostess group, but very enjoyable for the entire staff of the "women in white".

protest such as he made last year, vigorously point out to the country the dangers, line up his forces in House and Senate, and also put his own Department of Agriculture in a position of opposition instead of acquiescence—if he will do that, then the expected raid can be repulsed. Because then he would get from anti-New Dealers, such as Senator Taft and Senator Byrd, who preach the perils of unrestrained expenditures, support that would insure a majority. The trouble is that neither his friends nor his foes in Washington think the President will operate in that way. It would not, the White House politicians feel, be clever.

can factory is selling war supplies to the British and French. A German saboteur's job would be to put that factory out of business—perhaps by means of an explosion, of the saboteur's instigation. Or he does some tinkering with the insides of an American aviation plant's flying craft — something that won't show superficially, but which will make those airships collapse aloft subsequently, in action.

Oh, there are plenty of ways in which a saboteur can be a good deal worse than a propagandist or even a spy can be. The saboteur's dirty work classifies as malicious mischief, of capital, federal proportions. No wonder the FBI is on their trail.

Trust Busting

Chief Thurman Arnold of the justice department's anti-trust division also mentions anti-trust law violators as altogether too numerous for the FBI to get convincing evidence against.

This group of malefactors probably wouldn't materially increase our prison population even if they all could be caught, for I never heard of an anti-trust lawbreaker who got a penitentiary sentence. Injunctions and other forms of civil procedure are the government's weapons against 'em.

Nevertheless, an injunction can't be made to stick without preliminary investigation, and the FBI hasn't men enough to conduct it.

Chief Arnold says he has more than 650 complaints on hand that the justice department hasn't inquisitors enough to make so much as a start on.

However, espionage investigation is the thing that has FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover completely snowed under. In the meantime we need room for more federal prisoners. We have 'em packed in like sardines already. If J. Edgar gets the necessary appropriation to add yet more thousands to the list, we'll have standing room only at Atlanta, Leavenworth, Alcatraz and elsewhere.

Nazi World War Vets Sent Home From West Wall

Places Are Gradually Being Filled By Younger Men Trained By Oldsters

(International News Service)

BERLIN.—German war-veterans of 1914-1918 will gradually be released from front-line service in the course of several months in proportion to the growing war experience of young soldiers.

This was announced by Captain H. von Rosenthal in an article published in the Voelkischer Beobachter in which the author deals with the important role the 1914 veterans played in the Polish campaign.

"The war experience of the World war veteran, his model comradeship, his keeping the balance between gallantry and prudence saved the young defense forces a lot of blood. It is due to him that the German losses have been so extremely small so far. What cannot be learned even by the most meticulous peacetime drill the young front soldier learned from the old-timers. During psychological cruises under the impression of first war actions, young soldiers often enough found a moral backbone in the superior composure of the experienced warrior.

"To the same degree as young soldiers will acquire war experience, which has to be gained in every war, the older World War veterans will gradually be released for home. This cannot be done from one day to another, of course."

Notify Voters Of Cancellation Of Registration

Voters Who Have Not Exercised Privilege In Two Years Stricken From Lists

Notices are being mailed by Charles D. Ross, Chief Clerk of the Permanent Registration Bureau, to several thousand voters in Lawrence County, who have failed to exercise their privilege of franchise during the past two years, informing them that unless they appear personally before the commission, or mail a written request for reinstatement within a period of ten days after receipt of such notice, that their registration will be cancelled and they will be unable to vote until they have re-registered.

A return card is enclosed with the notice, which only needs to be filled out and mailed to the Registration Commission, whereupon reinstatement of registration will be effected for those who have been delinquent, and giving them the right to vote within the next two years. There is a provision, however, which precludes the possibility of someone else filling out the card and sending it to the Registration Commission. This provision is that the Registration Commission must be able to identify the signature on the card with the signature of the voter, kept in the registers of the Registration Commission.

Voters who exercise their right of franchise during a two year period are kept on the Registration list indefinitely, but in the case of those who do not vote that often, they are stricken from the list.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17.—An example of persistency that won a job has come to the attention of Job Mobilization Campaign officials.

"I did it and what now?" He asked.

"Start with the A's again," said the editor.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

SECOND TEETH

One of the most important advances in child care in recent years has been the greater attention given to their teeth, and the increased understanding among the lay public of how much a person's health and even appearance depends on the teeth.

We are all aware that children have twenty "baby" teeth which drop out as the second, or permanent teeth come along. Many mothers pay too little attention to the first teeth, perhaps because of a mistaken belief that the fact they're going to drop out any way makes it useless and unnecessary to take care of them.

When a child becomes five and a half or six years old there is a development in the mouth that should be watched for. One day the mother will see that another molar has been added to one side or the other—the sixth year molars have made their appearance. Now, these sixth year molars are very, very important. In fact a dentist friend of mine calls the the cornerstones of the mouth. Too often parents don't notice these at all or simply regard them as baby teeth. Yet, if they are neglected and allowed to become bad through lack of care, great harm is done to the child's mouth. These four 6-year molars are just about the most important teeth anyone ever has.

When a child's mouth has grown big enough so there is room for the permanent teeth, the temporary ones become loose. Soon after each baby tooth falls out, the permanent tooth pushes through the gums to replace it.

The Dionne Quintuplets are just going through this stage now. Marie lost the first tooth a few weeks ago and now the permanent tooth is showing through the gum. The other girls are going through the same oral change.

While these permanent teeth are coming through and the baby teeth are disappearing, the child still must go on eating and chewing his food. This what makes the six-year molars so important. Nature provided them for just this emergency. While the sets of teeth are changing, these four molars are the grinders that chew up the food.

But this very important work isn't all these teeth do. They have another purpose in that they act as anchors to the rest of the jaw while the other teeth are devolping. Dentists tell me that all too often these very important teeth are neglected until they have to be extracted. When this happens the proper balance and relationship between teeth in the upper and lower jaws is lost and so the whole arrangement of the rest of the permanent teeth is affected too. You can see why some dentists call them the cornerstones of the teeth.

All the baby teeth of every child should be brushed and cared for just as their permanent teeth are later on. I am pleased to note how parents today are making their children take better care of their teeth. I hope their tribe increases. Do you know, by the way, that Shakespeare gave parents a health precept for their children? In Coriolanus you find:

Bid them wash their faces,
And keep their teeth clean.

Army In Need Of $300,000,000 For More Equipment

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The army needs $300,000,000 to meet deficiencies in critical ordnance and other equipment, Secretary of War Woodring told the house military affairs committee Tuesday.

At the same time, he said that increased funds granted by congress in the past year have contributed materially to build an efficient army.

Woodring revealed that the army appropriation bill, soon to be considered by the house, will provide for an army of 462,000 men of which 227,000 would be regular army enlisted men and 235,000 would be in the National Guard.

The secretary of war and General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, appeared as the committee began an investigation into army needs. After brief public statements, the committee ordered the doors closed for a secret session.

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Can height be controlled by what we eat?

Many physicians, physiologists and dietitians think so.

People of certain countries are small in stature.

They subsist on vitamin-deficiency diets.

Students at one college average 1 inch taller than those of 1900.

Chinese in America with improved nutrition grow taller.

English working classes average 65 inches in height.

England's better nourished groups are definitely taller.

Many think vitamins stimula'e activity of ductless glands.

Ductless glands control the growth and development of the body.

Would less rice and more vitamin-food make Japanese taller?

No doubt.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.

AN APPRECIATION

New Castle News,
North Mercer Street,
New Castle, Pennsylvania.
Attention—Mr. Fred L. Rentz,
Gentlemen:

The undersigned wishes to take this opportunity to thank you and all members of your organization for the very fine work they did in enabling our Community Chest Drive for the year 1939-1940 to reach its goal and have a few thousand dollars left over with which to absorb the shrinkage which occurs in all contributions of this kind.

No words are adequate to express the Community Chest Board's true appreciation of your services as the publicity and cooperation accorded the Drive Committee this year exceeded by far any of your past excellent performances.

My purpose in writing to you at this time is to attempt to acquaint you and your staff with the fact that we are fully aware that no community effort of this kind can possibly succeed without having the assistance and help of the local newspaper, as it is the only means by which the public can become acquainted with the need and efforts of our public spirited citizens in attempting to maintain and provide for the nine charitable agencies represented in our New Castle Community Chest for the ensuing year.

While we have no desire to underestimate or depreciate the individual efforts of some five to six hundred of our better citizens, yet we do now that the guiding factor throughout the past drive was the unusually fine publicity given us whenever any of our Committees asked it of your paper.

Trusting the opportunity may arise when the undersigned and his committees might have the opportunity to repay the many kindnesses and courtesies shown them by you during the time said campaign was in progress, we remain

Yours very truly,
MARSHALL G. MATHENY,
Chairman New Castle
Community Chest Drive.

Ellwood City High Class Is Graduated On Tuesday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 17.—Education was likened unto the many complicated processes steel must go through, beginning with the almost valueless iron ore to the most expensive of all steel, that from which intricate watch springs are made, by Dr. Lee M. Thurston, professor of education, Pitt University, in a brief logical address delivered at the commencement exercises held for the January graduating class of Lincoln high school last evening.

The point of his contrast being if you don't start now, and with what you have, the finished product as in the case of steel originating from an earth product, will not result.

Ambition with which you must be born, character and capability, which have to be acquired, were named by Dr. Thurston as the three necessary requisites of future needs to be successful. According to the speaker, the University of Pittsburgh recently conducted a research to find why high school graduates were fired from department store jobs. The first reason found was dishonesty, and the second failure in knowing how to spell. With the statement that a great many people are original spellers, he passed over the second reason and then talked for some minutes about dishonesty. People are not inherently dishonest, he declared, but the reason lies in the fact that they have never been taught the difference between right and wrong and that is a fault of education, it was emphasized. Character must be molded by teachers, he stressed.

Capability emphasizes the necessity of beginning where you are, as in the case of iron ore and the steel process.

Shakespeare's thought, 'The world is mine oyster", is true only if your sword will bend and not break in adversity and will cut through obstacles and difficulties till at last a worthwhile accomplishment is achieved, the youthful Pitt professor told the graduates and their many friends gathered to witness the presentation of diplomas.

Other Speakers

"Woman—Yesterday and Today" was the subject of the splendid salutatory address given by Miss Vi'a DeFilippo, in which the psoition of woman was contrasted. Early women, who took an interest in anything outside the home or "Dorcas society" were considered "queer". Only thru the most trying difficulties did they enter the professions during the 19th century. By the time of the Civil war, advocates of women's rights, including suffrage, were organized but ceased after the war, when women in the fight for suffrage were subjected not only to ridicule but also to persecution. Not until 1920 was the suffrage amendment added to the constitution. Today, woman is everything from a prize-fighter to a financier. A one-day strike of women today would result in chaos. Every day the public usefulness and high devotion of women is being further realized.

"Woman—Her Mission Of Service" was the theme of the fine valedictory address given by Miss Helen DeMartini. John Ruskin, a famous English writer, was woman's first champion and was practically alone in his idea of what woman might do beyond her home. Women were the mainsprings of the humanitarian movements of the 19th century. Miss DeMartini told of the rise to greatness of Florence Nightingale, Clara Barton and Jane Addams and concluded "There are many others who gained fame in other fields. They have brought about the erection of institutions for the blind, deaf and insane, sanitariums for victims of disease and reforms in prisons and hospitals. When one contemplates the many and varied undertakings and achievements of these women, we bow in reverent silence to them".

In presenting the class, Dr. H. E. Helling, president of the board of education, said: "There is no such word as fail. Success lies in making the best of what you have at your command, in an honest, straightforward life with plenty of hard work and a willingness to make sacrifices."

Diplomas were presented to the 86 graduates by R. C. Shaffer, principal, and J. Ellis Bell, superintendent of schools. Rev. J. E. Caughey and Rev. W. E. Minteer offered prayers during the service.

OPPOSITION TO PROPOSAL FOR FINNISH RELIEF

Republican committeemen oppose any and all plans for loaning money to Finland on the ground it would violate the spirit of American neutrality.

Bitterest opposition to the entire proposition was displayed among the membership of the foreign relations committee. Prominent members of this committee in both Democratic and Republican ranks predicted Finnish aid measures would be pigeon-holed by the committee.

"I can't predict what will happen to the legislation before either committee," Barkley said. "I suppose the banking and currency committee will call Loan Administrator Jesse Jones and see what sort of loans he contemplates, and draft a bill in committee. I can't predict committee approval.

Opposes Aid

Senator Connally (D) Texas who demanded that the foreign relations committee be given the proposal to study, opposes any Finnish aid.

"It's taking sides," he said. "It's setting a bad precedent. We shouldn't make any loans to any foreign country. It doesn't make any difference that the loans would be indirect, and would go specifically to a corporation. We know they would be for the aid of the Finnish government.

Senate Democratic Whip Minton of Indiana said:

"I want to be mighty careful. I'm against any direct loans."

Immediate after Mr. Roosevelt's letter was read to the senate a fiery denunciation of "any loans to any foreign country engaged in conflict was made by Senator George (D) Georgia, a foreign relations committee member. Sharp criticism was directed at the loan proposal by various members before it was jointly referred to the banking and foreign relations committees, with the latter given the last word in committee approval or disapproval.

FASCIST PARTY GETS WARNING AT CONFERENCE

imperialism, racism, and national self-sufficiency, Muti called on to prepare to face increasing moral and material trials.

Drastic action, he indicated, would be taken to tighten up the nation's morale and ward off "relaxation, which would be pernicious at the present moment."

Warns Against Optimism

The party secretary warned against unfounded optimism, adding—probably in reference to recent Anglo-French overtures—"it is absurd and dangerous to put too much stock in recent unfounded and unjustified manifestations of international sympathy."

Virginio Gayda, authoritative editor of Giornale D'Italia, today scoffed at "foreign mistakes" in interpretating the recent changes in party and government personnel, which involved Muti's appointment in a general shake-up.

"More than ever," Gayda wrote, "Italy today must affirm and defend her individuality, her interest in liberty, and her other attitudes."

Health Officer Says Water Taste Affected By Ice

Dr. W. L. Steen Issues Statement About Taste Of Drinking Water

Dr. William L. Steen today issued a bulletin concerning water used for drinking.

He said that "the people will enjoy better tasting water for a few days, then, if the present cold weather continues, the taste of the water will again become different.

He continued:

"It all depends on the ice on the Shenango river. When the river is free of ice and the water is exposed to sunshine and fresh air, it arrives at the New Castle pumping plant in good condition. When the river is frozen solid, from embankment to embankment, the water from Pymatuning lake has no way to become purified but flows through what is practically a 40-mile pipe line and contains all the impurities that emanate out of the roots of what was once an immense swamp.

"To purify the water and make it safe for drinking an excessive amount of chlorine must be used. This causes an unpleasant taste.

"The water, however, is free from any dangerous contamination. It is tested daily by the water company before being pumped into city mains and also by the city health officer who takes his samples from the water mains.

"A report gained circulation that the pupils of Highland school were made ill by drinking city water. This could not be true because none of the pupils in the other schools were sick and the water is the same throughout the city."

SUGGESTS TWO BILLION DOLLAR FUND BE USED

$500,000,000 or less. Today, Adams explained that "only $200,000,000 of the big fund has ever been used at one time," and added:

Only Stablized Currency

"We never needed any $2,000,000,000 fund. The American dollar is the only stablized currency in the world today, and the soundest. The only value that ever accrued from the fund was a psychological one. I voted for extension of the fund last year because world conditions were disturbed, and it was argued that to end it might weaken our position.

"However, the tripartite monetary agreement between this country, Great Britain and France is no longer in existence, and all need for the fund has gone. We should use this money to reduce our public debt. I wouldn't consent to its use for new appropriations, but if we applied it to our debt, the pressure for lifting the stautory debt limit above its present 45,000,000,000 limitation would ease."

Senator George (D) Georgia, a member of the senate finance committee, supported Adams in proposing use of the stabilization fund, but he did not object to applying the money to impending appropriations for national defense.

"Use of this money—if it is not needed by the treasury—would be much preferable to enactment of new taxes," said George. "I for one, would be very glad to see some of the money applied to the defense expenditures."

THOS. DONEGAN DIES SUDDENLY

evening at St. Mary's church, where he was active in parish affairs, and at the Knights of Columbus home. He had not complained of being ill.

At Work Tuesday

Yesterday he performed his duties at the post office general delivery window, where, for many years, he had developed a wide acquaintance with post office patrons.

He was given his temporary clerk appointment by the post office on July 1, 1917 and on February 11, 1918 was advanced to the permanent clerk rating. Through the years he has performed various duties in the clerical division.

The sudden passing of Mr. Donegan shocked leaders of the Pennsylvania Federation of Post Office Clerks and those high in the councils of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks.

Officers of Local 227, the New Castle clerks' unit, wired both the state and national offices of Mr. Donegan's death this morning. Only last Saturday, in his capacity as national representative in Pennsylvania, he had officiated at the installation of 1940 officers of Pittsburgh Local 81.

Was State President

Mr. Donegan first served the local clerks' group and then advanced to higher posts. He was a past president of the state federation, the federation he had previously served as secretary for years. After being state president the national federation named him as its Pennsylvania representative. He held that post at his death.

Mr. Donegan found time outside his postal organization work to be active in the Knights of Columbus and at St. Mary's church. He was a trustees of the local St. Mary's council of K. of C. He was a member of St. Mary's Holy Name society.

Mr. Donegan was born in New Castle, the son of Mary Rotchford and Dennis F. Donegan, November 28, 1888, and had resided here all his life. He had been married 22 years to Madeline Morgan Donegan, who survives him.

Three children, Mildred, Dorothea and Thomas, all at home, also survive.

Four brothers and one sister also survive. They are Mrs. Michael Mescall, this city, and James and Dennis Donegan, of New Castle, and Maurice Donegan, Cleveland, and Sylvester Donegan, Baltimore. Another brother, John, preceded him in death two years ago.

Solemn high mass of requiem will be conducted for his remains at St. Mary's church Saturday at 10 a. m. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR INSTALLATION

Wilmington, and Rev. W. J. Holmes, New Castle, spoke very highly of both Rev. Newsom and Dr. Patterson, and called upon them for a few words. Both expressed their pleasure in becoming members of Shenango presbytery. Dr. Patterson, who comes from Steubenville presbytery, said he was glad to be back in the Synod of Pennsylvania, his "home synod", for he was ordained in Pittsburgh presbytery.

Rev. Henderson Clerk

Presbytery business yesterday afternoon included election of Rev. T. C. Henderson, pastor of the Moravia church, as permanent clerk, to fill the unexpired term of Rev. D. C. Schnebly. The nomination speech was made by Dr. J. J. McIlvaine.

Presbytery Treasurer W. M. McConaghy of Sharon presented the budget for the church year and stated that the assessment per member will be 15½ cents, the same as last year. All congregational chairmen should send their national missions contributions to Mr. McConaghy, instead of directly to the missions board. Mr. McConaghy will forward the contributions to the board and see that the Shenango presbytery gets the proper credit, and is returned for use in mission work within the presbytery.

Rev. W. J. Holmes read bills and overtures handed down from the general assembly, and Shenango Presbytery agreed to Rev. Holmes' recommendation of no action on all proposals. Later Rev. Holmes, in concluding a splendid foreign missions committee report, stated that Dr. William P. Shell, a secretary of the board of foreign missions, New York City, has consented to speak at the April meeting of the presbytery. As Dr. Schell is a noted speaker, all the ministers and laymen were greatly interested.

Shenango presbytery is employing Dr. A. S. McGarrah of Grove City, from April to April ('40 to '41) to conduct a church advance program from which great results are anticipated. Expenses of the campaign were agreed upon yesterday; they will not exceed $1,500. Dr. McGarrah spoke to presbytery in the afternoon, and to presbytery and the public at a special meeting in the evening, and every member canvass.

New Castle High Defeated 32 To 30 By Beaver Falls

Nosed Out In Final Moment Of Game By Beaver Valley Team

Second place was temporarily decided in Section Three last night at the George Washington High gym with Beaver Falls High nosing out New Castle 32 to 30 in a torrid battle that saw the Beaver Falls boys in front for three periods of the game. New Castle rallied in the third period, but failed to hold the lead.

The victory gives Beaver Falls possession of second place in the league. Johnny Rayz playing at a forward instead of his customary center spot was the thorn in the side of New Castle scoring 15 of the points and together with Ray Woodski made tough opposition for New Castle for three periods of the game.

Visitors Take Lead

Beaver Falls took the lead midway in the first period with Goddard caging a field goal to put the Ransom coached team out in front 5 to 3. The end of the first period found the invaders from Beaver Falls in front 10 to 5. Woodski, Goddard and McKee did the most of the Beaver Falls scoring. Gennock, Cowden and Bombyk had the New Castle points.

New Castle looked better the second period which ended 17 to 15 in favor of the Beaver Falls boys. New Castle had closed up the gap considerably. Cowden,, and Lauro playing his final home game, had the most of the New Castle points. For the Beaver Falls team the majority of the points made in the second period were made by Rayz, McKee and Woodski. With four minutes left of the first half the Beaver Falls team held a 16 to 10 lead.

In the closing minutes of the period the New Castle team put on a rally that netted them five points. With a minute or so left of the second period, McKee, the Beaver Falls center, was forced out on four personals. His place was taken by Ross.

New Castle Rallies

The New Castle team put on its best rally in the third period to grab the lead from the valley quintet. Behind 17 to 15 at the half the locals took the lead at 19 to 18 as Bombyk caged a field goal with a minute or so of the third period gone. With a minute and a half left of the third period the locals held a 24 to 18 lead. The Beaver Falls team could not seem to locate the hoops as effectively as they did in the earlier stages of the game. In fact they made but one field goal the whole third period, a two-pointer by Rayz.

New Castle outscored the visitors 9 to 3 for the third period to lead at the close of the stanza 24 to 20. Adamo went in for Cowden at forward for New Castle.

Play was fast and furious the final period. Rayz made a field goal to send the score to New Castle 24—Beaver Falls 22. Gennock went in for Kelly who had replaced Gennock in the second period. Cowden went back in for Adamo.

Rayz Comes Through

With seven minutes of the game left to play it was 25-22 in favor of New Castle, as Christopher made good one out of two free tosses. Then Rayz went into action and tied the count with a field goal and foul at 25-25. Bombyk put New Castle back in the lead at 27-25 with a nice shot. Rayz caged a foul for Beaver Falls to make it 27-26 in favor of New Castle. There were just four minutes left of the game.

Lauro made it 29 to 26 in favor of New Castle with a two-pointer. Rayz came through with another field goal that made it 29 to 28 New Castle. Time was slipping away fast. Woodski had a foul try that was missed. Adamo went in for Christopher at guard for the New Castle team. There were just three minutes of the game left.

Woodski Wins Game

Woodski put the Beaver Falls team out in front 30 to 29 with a field goal from the side of the court. Eddie Cowden had a free throw and made it good to knot the count at 30-30. There were just two minutes left to play. Both teams became erratic and unsteady.

With a minute left to play Woodski made the winning basket for Beaver Falls with a one-hand flip from the side of the court. Kelly went in for Adamo with 20 seconds of the game left to play. It was too late, the game was over and Beaver Falls had won, breaking the jinx that has followed them here for many years.

Sports World Ramblings

Y. M. C. A. basketball here is 43 years old. This interesting fact was brought to light by Emmett Gillaspie, Ben Franklin Junior High School's capable coach. During the Christmas holidays, Gillaspie visited his former home town, Altoona. Attending a banquet, one night, he sat next to a pleasant old man, a gent who likes to exchange pleasantries. Being of a sports minded nature, the elderly gent turned back the pages of history and chatted about this and that. . . .

The old timer proudly revealed that he started basketball in New Castle's Y. M. C. A. in 1897. The elderly gent is Russell Aukerman, then director of the local institution. No doubt, there are a few local residents who remember the fiery Aukerman. After leaving here, Aukerman moved to Altoona where he later became a mail carrier. In passing, it might be mentioned that the daddy of local Y. basketball started something. The sport is easily a topnotcher and ranks second to the doings of the New Castle High flippers. . . .

Local Bits: In dropping his "debut-number", Mike Murphy, Sheep Hill's latest contribution to the ring war, won the hearts of the fight gentry. Displaying all the awkwardness and crudeness characteristic in a lad making his first appearance, Murphy displayed a fighting heart—one of the main requisites of any good boxer. He went down in the opening round, came up and stuck it out like a trouper. With a bit more polish, a lad of this type can't miss climbing along the ladder of success. He realized he looked somewhat ragged, but laughed it off. . . .

Sunny Horne, Niles, looms as one of the most promising amateurs to show here. The lad is blessed with practically every trait that spells success in the leather pushing business. As a crowd pleaser, he's tops. . . . Mickey Rubin, who is somewhat sorry that he ever turned pro, was one of the most excited persons in The Arena Monday. He did confess that he'd give anything to "be in there slugging away." . . Quite a few localites will be among the persons present at the banquet honoring the Ellwood City High 1939 grid team, tonight in Ellwood City. A well deserved tribute to a great team. . . .

Diamond Musings: Baseball addicts figure Wesley Ferrell won't be of much help to the Dodgers, come this season. I have a hunch they are right. Ferrell supposedly did a little chucking in the bush league last season. Reports state that said bushers "had a feast", clubbing the great Wesley who came up to Cleveland and in his first four years won 20 or more games a season. . . . . Johnny Mize's quick change of mind makes us think a little bonus clause was injected somewhere in the script. He deserves it. . .

A bit of everything: Franklin Lewis, a Cleveland scribe covering the Conn-Cooper fight last week, counted 813 lefts which hit Cooper's face. . . Jack Dempsey, who is gradually developing into the czar of entrepreneurs, will soon branch into Chicago where he will add a luxuriously arranged eatery. . . The reconciliation of the former Manassa Mauler and Jack Kearns, who piloted Dempsey to fame and riches, was good news to typewriter jockeys as well as to the country's boxing addicts. . . . Dr. Jock Sutherland, the mystery man of football, was as good as a "pro tutor" by the time this started rolling off the press. . .

STATE PAROLE BOARD IS SOUGHT

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—A motion to create a state parole board will be put before the next session of the legislature by the Pennsylvania committee on penal affairs of the public charities association.

Present state and county parole systems were branded as "cumbersome" and "ineffective" by the body at a meeting in Philadelphia. A recommendation called for establishment of training courses for probation and parole officers by the state department of public instruction.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Well, well, what do you know . . . because Arthur Mometer said it was balmy outside the elements turned around and said oh, no it isn't . . . and so we are in the making of some mighty fine sled riding weather. There hasn't been too much of this kind of sport this year . . . Let's hope that no serious accidents occur during the remainder of the season . . . motorists . . . take into consideration that you were once a kid yourself and enjoyed sled riding. Drive carefully.

Some mighty funny things go on in the world of romance. The older folks say that the younger generation does queer things when their mind is set on courting. But we are here to say that if these same older folks were turned loose you would see some very queer courting. There are a few cases here in New Castle and some of the things that are told, by those doing the courting themselves, would make a good comedy play. Probably you know a case or two . . . what do you think . . . Is the younger generation more rational than the older generation when it comes to romance?

How many of you folks have enjoyed the great sport of sleigh riding. Not many folks born in the last thirty years can remember much about the one horse sleight or the famous bobsled rides that were popular years ago. In some towns, folks bring horses to the edge of town and rent out sleighs by the hour. There's no thrill greater in the world than riding in a cutter hitched to a fast horse . . . if you ever get the opportunity to take a ride, don't pass it up.

* * *

The new automobiles are fine in their shinny paint and streamline designs . . . they have powerful motors that give all the speed that anyone could desire . . . they ride like a feather bed . . . and drink gas like a Gulliver . . . but we all like them, but one thing seems to be wrong . . . the more automatic they become the more likely they are to go wrong. There is nothing worse than to have a car stop on the road on a night when the thermometer is ten above and find it won't start again . . . it happened to yours truly last night and boy it was cold standing around . . . see you again when we thaw out.

Several Leaders Add Point Or More To Yesterday's Modest Advance

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The stock market today rallied further with several leaders adding a point or more to yesterday's modest advance. Stocks moved steadily upward from the opening.

Steels were in the van of the upswing, with Bethlehem advancing better than a point. U. S. Steel did nearly as well, while Crucible and Youngstown Sheet & Tube each gained about a half-point.

American Telephone stood out on a jump of 2 points. Philip Morris, U. S. Gypsum, Phelps-Dodge and Boeing chalked up gains of a point or more.

Chrysler's advance fell just short of a point and General Motors showed fractional improvement. Utilities, rails, chemicals and rubbers generally were fractions above last night's closings.

Commodities held within narrow limits. Cotton eased about 25 cents a bale, but grains were virtually unchanged. Bonds also were dull.

Foreign markets displayed a firm undertone in quiet dealings.

Open Season On Skunks Ordered

From Now Until October, 1941, Skunks Can Be Shot Leffler Announces

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG Jan. 17—Temporary lifting of a ban on the killing of skunks out of season was announced today by the state game commission.

Chairman Ross L. Leffler said that the "lowly and rarely appreciated" skunk would automatically be restored to the status of a protected fur-bearer in October, 1941.

"In the meantime," Leffler declared, "its food habits and its abundance will be studied carefully by capable research workers."

The commission's decision to remove the skunk from the list of protected fur-bearing animals was made at a meeting on January 11, Leffler said.

The effect of the commission's action is to make it lawful to kill skunks at any time and in any manner, including the digging or smoking out of their dens, except through the use of poisons, explosives, and chemicals.

An over-abundance of the skunk population in Pennsylvania prompted the commission action, Leffler pointed out economic conditions were blamed for low fur prices.

Britain Denies Report That Exeter Has Been Beached

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Reports published abroad to the effect that the British cruiser Exeter has been beached at the British Falkland Islands naval base are incorrect, it was stated authoritatively today.

The cruiser Exeter participated in the sea battle off the Uruguayan coast in which the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee was forced to run for cover to Montevideo harbor, where it later was scuttled.

The Exeter suffered heavily in this battle and finally was forced to drop out of action. Since then she has been reported limping slowly down the South American coast toward the Falkland Islands.

Son Confesses He Shot Father Then Fired Home

Youth Ran From Home Sans Clothing To Spread Alarm Of Fire

(International News Service)

SALEM, Ill., Jan. 17.—Confession of 21-year-old Edgar Campbell of St. Louis that he shot and killed his father, and then set fire to his father's house in an attempt to conceal the crime, was announced today by State's Attorney Ward P. Holt.

The victim was William T. Campbell, 70, a well to do farmer. The elderly man's body was found in the ruins of his home Monday night after the son had run, nude, about half a mile to the home of a neighbor to report the fire.

According to Holt, young Campbell confessed he had run from the burning house without clothes to make it appear he had been bathing when the fire started.

"I killed my father because he was mean to my mother," Holt quoted the youth.

Young Campbell's parents were divorced in 1936, when Mrs. Campbell moved to St. Louis with Edgar, four other sons and two daughters. Since that time Edgar had visited his father occasionally but, he said, they always argued about his mother.

Gannett Throws His Hat In Ring

Enters Race For G. O. P. Presidential Nomination; Would Overthrow New Deal

(International News Service)

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Frank Gannett, the newspaper publisher, was in the race today for the Republican presidential nomination with a campaign pledged to unqualified overthrow of the New Deal and its principles.

"Our form of government will be menaced until the New Deal and its theorists are cleaned out, root and branch," Gannett declared at a civic reception and dinner at which he formally announced his candidacy.

Entrance of the 63-year-old publisher into the Republican race heralded a contest with District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey over the votes of the New York delegation to the GOP national convention. Gannett entered the contest with the support of a number of political leaders from up-state rural New York counties and also of leaders in other states.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT FACE PIMPLES

These disfiguring spots affecting the outer or surface layer of the skin often result from a temporary disturbance, or merely from incorrect cleansing.

You can relieve the itchy, burning soreness and help your skin by using an ointment whose medication stays in active contact with the pimply spots. Apply it every night and leave it on all night. It does a world of good.

For nearly 45 years people have used Resinol Ointment to fill this need. It soothes the irritated oil ducts where many surface pimples start, and aids healing. Carefully cleansing the skin with Resinol Soap helps to quicken the pleasing results. Its gently active lather is refreshing and it rinses easily.

Buy a jar of Resinol Ointment and cake of Resinol Soap from any druggist. For free sample, write Resinol, Dept. 89, Baltimore, Md.

Famous Finnish Commander Speaks

(International News Service)

PARIS, Jan. 17.—"We will fight to the last of our old men and the last of our children.

This dramatic challenge to the Soviet Union was voiced today by Field Marshall Baron Carl Von Mannerheim, commander-in-chief of the Finnish army, in an interview with Georges Kessel, war correspondent of the Paris Soir.

It was the first statement the grizzled old Finnish warrior had made since he emerged from retirement to lead Finland in its staunch and courageous resistance to the Russian invaders.
